C.P.R. MAKES NO APPLICATION FOR WATER THIS YEAR

Council Makes Provisions For Loss Of Revenue If Contract Is Not Renewed

Inasmuch as no application has yet been made by the C.P.R. for a renewal of their contract with the town for water, the Council on Monday night was not quite sure whether that corporation intended to deal with the town or not in that respect.

There being no application, here was necessarily no discussion on the subject, but it is quite plain that the waterworks committee has its eyes open to all possible exigencies, and in its estimates which were turned in to the Council, it was pointed out that the proceeds of the C.P.R. contract for the next nine months of the year, had not been placed in the estimates as probable receipts. To offset this, provisions had been made in the taxes. As stated by Councillor Struthers "what difference this would make, Councilman Connolly informed him that the difference would be almost negligible."

The Minister of Agriculture had written the Council urging that every possible tract of land be put under cultivation this year for larger production. The letter was turned over to the Cemetery, Health and Relief Committee, and they reported back that they would suggest that all lots in the name of the town be staked off, and let out to those willing to cultivate them. The matter was turned over by resolution to the Cemetery, Health and Relief Committee to take the necessary steps to this end.

In this respect Alderman Connolly suggested that the School Inspector urge the older pupils in the town to take up plots. The government will offer medals and give plenty of publicity to the subject.

The old ghost of the title for the disposal plan came up once again in a letter received by Burns & Mavor from G. S. Walker, solicitor for the C.P.R. in which he stated that the C.P.R. could not see its way clear to modify the terms of the agreement.

It appears that either verbally, or by letter J. S. Dennis had contacted with the C.P.R. would waive the water rights on this property, but the present management of the Natural Resources department did not see its way clear to accept the intent of this verbal or written assurance. Consequently an appeal will be made to J. S. Dennis in Montreal, and it was moved by Struthers and seconded by Golden, that the secretary be instructed to communicate with J. S. Dennis to try to get some concessions or disposal etc.

Alderman Struthers stated that he be released of his contract with the town on the industrial site proposition, and a motion was made to that effect.

Councillor Struthers wanted to know under the order of new business, what the terms were for the sale of the Melrose subdivision at the coming tax enforcement sale. It appears that in this subdivision there are a number of lots sold, consequently the subdivision cannot be cancelled unless these purchasers are willing to release their titles or accept titles equally as good in some other part of the town. All will do this but one, and the Council decided to send a delegation to Edmonton to interview the powers that be to the matter, and see what can be

A LITTLE ROUNDUP

A DOG MATTER:
The canine club held a meeting last week about the appointment of a dog tax collector. Much discussion prevailed at the meeting and a large number of old and new members were present.

A few fine ones would make them seek "pasture new" farther afield.

NOT GOING UP:
The town is not having an excellent crop. This is one thing that has not advanced in price this year. Times are not what they used to be.

Let's go up if it wants to, we don't take loss on our whiskey nowadays anyway.

RATS! RATS!
The Minister's Bride" has already been in the city for a number of days, and it is hoped will develop into a wave—Camrose edition.

What are you talking about? Is it her rippling and wavy hair?

CASE OF ADULTION BRIDGE:
The Provincial government have taken over the bridge project, and the construction work is now in their hands.

They wouldn't play with us at all. We found you hold a good land.

HEAR! HEAR!
The woman who studies the ads. knows that she is paying the lowest possible price for her purchases. She doesn't just buy—she bargains.

Women around here would go blind looking for some of the merchants' ads. in The Mail.

POKIE HIM:
One of our readers writes to us to say that he has been to the circus and has seen a pokie him.

We would have no objection if H. O. C. should get thoroughly "soused."

FOLLOWING OUR LEAD:
Youngsters were routed out of bed last night and were to be sent to school this morning. The change of time of opening the morning sessions in the public schools from 8:30 o'clock to 9 o'clock, becoming effective Monday—Bassano Mail Herald.

Rayville is going up to date in this respect as Bassano.

WAS THERE ANY BUZZ?
People in Victoria are saying things. Relations already have been flying over Victoria and Victoria—Bassano Mail Herald.

Maybe there was B.C. mosquitoes.

HOLD YOUR NOSE:
Twenty years ago eggs were selling in Calgary at fifteen cents a dozen. To-day a man would have to be earning a salary to enjoy a single egg for his breakfast—Bassano Herald.

He should need a cast iron stomach to enjoy any we've seen.

THANKS! THANKS!
R. P. Findlay has received the following post card from Jack de Blaquiere, who is well known here and who is now on active service in France:

"Thanks very much for tobacco and cigarettes. I also got a few of these post cards with the parcel, so am writing a few lines on each to thank the sender. We were glad to get them as our tobacco supply was getting low."

"Jack de Blaquiere."

It is surmised that the subdivision will be eventually released and sold under the tax enforcement as farm land.

Mayor Travis appointed Secretary Treasurer Bond as one of the delegation, and he will probably be accompanied by another of the council.

A motion was made that the school board be requested to meet with the finance committee at their meeting on Wednesday night to adjust their estimates.

COMMUNICATION

The Mail has had several communications from its correspondents.

In reference to an article which appeared in "The Mail" at the time of the opening of the Bassano Municipal hospital, it is asked, "who would be the first to furnish a ward?" I am sending you a letter which I have received from B. T. Gray from the front in France. This letter quite explains itself and I trust you will give it due publicity in order that the Bassano Volunteers' Brigade may be given proper credit for their very successful action at the time the hospital was first completed.

G. N. H. Bann

I am writing you these few lines in goods supplied by me to the hospital at the time of completion as I notice in The Bassano Mail that the hospital is now open and it says who will be the first to supply a ward. This was done by the members of the first brigade to the extent of supplying one of the beds, blankets, detachable foot rail, complete with mattress and one wicker chair. These goods were a part of the order which the town received from me, but the order which was deducted from the amount which the town paid me. I would be pleased to have you continue the statement which appeared in your local paper, and give our first brigade the credit for being first to furnish a ward. The goods were delivered at the same time as the other beds, mattresses and springs and were placed separately in the small front private ward in the left wing. I think there was another bed in the order which the town gave me, but this was placed in the larger ward along with all goods supplied.

B. T. Gray

DID VERY WELL

The second dance given by the Bassano Patriotic society took place on Friday evening last in Charlie Park's barn. Owing to the cold weather there were only some fifty people of both sexes present at the dance, and consequently the receipts were smaller than anticipated.

With the large floor space available 200 people could have been accommodated and they would have had good weather and better trails, some such number could have been expected.

The proceeds, after deducting expenses, of the first dance at Park's barn, including $100 donated by E. G. Harrison, were $100. This was sent to the general secretary of the Canadian Patriotic Fund in Calgary in January.

The statement of last Friday's dance is as follows:

Receipts—$67.50, which includes $50 donated by Edwin Newson (proceeds of sale), $5 handed to society by Russell Johnson, and $5.00 donated by J. O. Ragon of Vaux.

Expenses—Music, $12; P. O. Ragon supplied $15.00; J. W. Pettit supplied $15; printing, $5; balance sent to Calgary office, $64.

We desire to thank the ladies who lent their baskets, Billy Graham, the use of barn, Ed. Newson, Russell Johnson and Edwin Ragon for their assistance, and Messrs. Pettit and Selkirk for managing the floor.

WAR INFORMATION

This is the crucial and, we hope, the final year of war. The armies and the maritime activities of the allies are training and organized for a supreme, united effort.

The maintenance of an adequate food supply is vital to the success of this effort. In this regard, it is the duty and the privilege of the Dominion Department of Agriculture to lend aid, in all possible ways. In striving for maximum production this year, many farmers will meet with difficulties demanding prompt solution. Our resources are at their disposal and last their should be any uncertainty as to where to address suggestions and requests, on matters that do not seem to come exactly within the scope of the office of the Experimental Farms Branch, it has been decided to open an Information Bureau.

Think, if you are not sure which Branch of the Department you should address, do not waste time or fail to write us on that account. Simply address your letter Information Bureau, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

All replies handed to the proper officer without delay and will be replied to promptly.

Marion Burrill, Minister of Agriculture.

ALL IN FAVOR

The Golden Old of last week says: "F. A. McIlhenny & Sons have again taken over the Palace hotel dining room as Messrs. Miller & Jones found it was not doing money running it. They will now give it a good trial on the American plan as it is possible it will keep it going. So it is up to the public to give them the preference and not expect them to keep up this fine big hotel and compete against Chinese in the dining room."

Chinese in the dining room. They now make offer that critics will have to accept or keep quiet in future. They will give free of rent the dining room furnished complete to the Travellers Association, the Town Council or any person who will be responsible for breakage of the furniture, etc. This shows that they think they can make the dining room pay, will be required to supply only edible and valuable. Surely this is a fair proposition and the travellers and cranks who are cheating off to Edmonton to make the hotel keep feed them at a loss should roll up their sleeves and show us how it can be done or forever hold their peace.

The subject of Rev. W. S. Brooks in the Presbyterian church on Sunday night at 7:30 will be "The Supreme Standard of Life."

P. Deland of the Trusts & Guarantees Co. was in town, the end of last week, bringing with him a new re-emmer for the electric light plant. Mr. Deland resigned from the job. Mr. Deland reports the business of the plant in excellent shape.

Bobby Boyd, who for the past four years has been a resident of town, left on Tuesday night for Calgary, with a possibility of going on to Great Falls, Mont. Bobby has been a very popular boy and his Spokane stories will be very greatly missed.

The next regular Red Cross dance, which was scheduled for tomorrow night has been postponed, and will be held on Friday, March 16th (St. Patrick's Eve). Everybody is requested to wear something green. The brass band orchestra will be in attendance.

THEY MAY WORK

Word has been received that an order-in-council has been passed at the instance of Hon. Dr. Robe temporarily relaxing the homestead regulations so that homesteaders will be permitted to engage in farm labor at any place in line of the regular homestead duties. As present six months' homestead duties are required, under the new order as long as a homesteader puts in six months' farm labor he will meet the regulations.

It was represented that many homesteaders had not a few some cleared and would have time, if the regulations were relaxed, to relax for other farmers, thus helping to relieve the serious western labor situation. The new order is the result.

"BUCK" ON THE JOB

Consistible Bookstore of the Alberta Provincial Police force, has arrived in town and taken up his headquarters for the present at the Hunter hotel, and with him also arrived Mr. Buckerton. Whether there are any little Bucksters has not yet been ascertained.

The new provincial policeman is a big, jolly looking fellow, who gives one the impression that he would 'a' pinch' a fellow for taking a drink of Scotch once in a while, but nevertheless one who would be a terror to habitual law breakers.

The editor of The Mail will immediately commence to get on the good side of the Provincial policeman so that we can go fighting one in a while at least.

OUR CHURCH CORNER

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF LENT

(By Rev. A. C. Swainson)
Lent, in the old Sax. signifying "The Spring," has been applied to the Spring fast, or the time of humiliation, and observed by Christians before the festival of Easter.

One fast, probably like other Christian observances, is of Jewish origin, corresponding with the preparation of the people for the yearly expiation, their humiliation being forty days before the Expiation, and Christ is forty days before the expiation of the sins of the world by the death of Christ.

From the very first ages of Christianity, it was customary for Christians to set apart a time for mortification and self-denial, in memory of the sufferings of Christ and the solemn season before, and in preparation for Easter is very ancient and was widespread, if not universal in the Church.

This solemn season is limited to forty days, because the number forty was very anciently appropriated to seasons of repentance and humiliation. Also Our Lord, when he was pleased to fast in the wilderness, observed the fast for forty days.

This season of humiliation was observed by the primitive Christians, with the most rigid strictness. No marriages were allowed, nor were any festive or joyous external mark of dereliction and sorrow was exhibited, particularly abstinence and fasting.

It is to be noted that the six Sundays in Lent are no part of Lent and are therefore not to be fasted. The early Christians held it unlawful to fast on Sunday, because on that day Jesus Christ rose from the dead and made it a day of joy and comfort.

The Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian church are needed to announce that they have raised by subscription, plus the proceeds of a home cooking sale, sufficient funds to pay off the entire debt on the church organ.

The society wishes to thank everyone who has kindly donated cash to this fund, especially the gentleman who so generously contributed nearly a third of the amount required.

Thanks are also due the ladies who donated cakes, etc. for the recent home cooking sale, and everyone who helped in any way with this good work.

BERKELEY HOTEL IS OFFERED TO THE COMMISSION

Communications between John S. Mavor and Sir James Lougheed For The Purpose

That there is a possibility of the Berkeley hotel being used by the Military Hospitals commission is indicated by the following passage of communications between the commission and John S. Mavor: Sir James Lougheed,

Dear Sir James: There is, as you are doubtless aware, located in this town a building not now in use and formerly known as the Berkeley hotel which might be made a suitable home for convalescent soldiers. The citizens here are anxious, if possible, that the building be taken over by the Commission for this purpose.

I would be glad if you would advise me of the policy of your Commission in the matter of locating these homes, and if there is any prospect of the above building being taken over by your Commission for this purpose. I have little doubt but that arrangements could be made with the owners with a view to having the building loaned to the Military Hospitals Commission. Some considerable repairs would be necessary before it was suitable for occupancy.

However, I would appreciate your advising me of what may be done in this respect, at the same time giving me any other suggestions which you may deem proper so that I may advise our citizens authoritatively.

John S. Mavor, Esq.,
Dear Sir:

I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of the 16th instant, addressed to the President of the Commission, upon the subject of the Berkeley hotel.

A survey is at present being made of Alberta and your communication has been forwarded to the O. I. so that he may incorporate in his report (all information as to the above-mentioned property).

Thanking you for bringing the matter to the attention of the Commission, I remain,

MOUNTIES ARE AWAY

Last week the R. N. W. M. P. were withdrawn from their various stations and beat it into Calgary where they will occupy headquarters in the old Ranchmans' Club. Towards the end of the week they came straggling in from all points to Bassano en route to the city.

The majority of them were mounted and rode their steeds to Calgary, their personal and other belongings having been shipped ahead of them. Constable Taylor who was the latest mountie stationed here, left on Saturday. Although stationed here but a few months, he leaves behind him a host of good friends who will vote him a good fellow and wish him all kinds of luck wherever fortune may lead him.

SOME TAX SALE

The City of Edmonton is holding tax sales on April 12th and in the town of February 21st. The Journal has over seventeen pages devoted to a description of the lots and the amount of arrears. Altogether there are nearly 25,000 parcels of land, including 25 foot lots and acreage mentioned which will make the total acreage in arrears about 3400 acres.

VALUE OF THE HOME TOWN IS NOT YET PROPERLY APPRECIATED

NOT YET PROPERLY APPRECIATED
WHAT THE HOME TOWN SHOULD MEAN TO YOU

The Country Town Renders to the Community a Service Always Better than is Warranted by the Patronage Received, and it is Time that this Fact was More Generally Recognized

Old as it may be, the remark is frequently made, "If you want to hear the news about your own town, get out of town." It is a good idea. [We become so familiar with our surroundings, so accustomed to conditions, that we often fail to see any new advantages or opportunities in them. They are too close to us. They are in our laps. If we come into our community and avail himself of certain advantages prices in favor of the small town dealers—very much so.

The facts are and unprejudiced individuals will find that the country town today can and does render to the community it serves higher prices, more service, and is almost always a little better than the patronizer given the town really varies in the quality of the service offered at prices that cannot be duplicated, taken in the main, by big cities.

For instance, we need to appreciate the worth of our home town and its people. We need to know the people there, who really make the town what it is. We need to know how town every week, meet and converse with them. We need to know the general market conditions in what we sell, visit various stores, and get up-to-date information, by our regular visits. We need to know what is thought to be the tremendous advantage of such an opportunity. However, we need to know that these visits can be made once or twice a week, and that the time and value is taken as a matter of course, as a privilege, even as a hobby.

During a recent automobile trip through seven states, many small towns were visited. The real worth of such visits to the community is surrounding them is apparent to a stranger because a stranger is free from the prejudice of a resident. Local opportunities and advantages appeal to the outsider because they are not taken for granted as a reason of long association.

Electricity from Sunlight

Many Scientists are Working on This

On this automobile trip, even the small towns visited attributed the success of the tour to the fact that the exhibits were prepared to render the most interesting and profitable to the small town, a type typical of one of the other exhibits. The first grade of exhibits was the most popular, and at a price, from 20 to 30 cents cheaper than the city main page. To illustrate, the exhibit on the origin of corn, first in prime condition, was sold for 20 cents, while the exhibit from large cities, for the retail price of sixty cents. Identically the same exhibit, from the same source, was purchased three days before in the city for the same price, 60 cents. Two days later, it was sold for 20 cents.

The price was ninety cents.

A really prime beefsteak was obtained from the shop in this little town for forty cents, and there isn't any big city in the country where you can get enough beefsteak for forty cents to "grease the skillet."

One of the ladies of the party brought an automobile well in the dry goods store of this village, for less than half the price she paid for the

The grocery store stock was equal in point of variety to any ordinary demand. You could buy at this store anything that could be obtained from the average grocery store in a city of one thousand people. And, mind you, at prices most favorable when compared with city prices.

Articles were obtained at the hardware store that had been searched for and not found in the larger stores. The cost of the items visited on the trip. A hand saw, which was made was purchased to replace one that was lost. The twelve cents less than the other cost in Chicago a few weeks before.

All this talk of having to send away for goods, and of local goods going out of style, too high in price, or not good enough in quality, is nonsense. Local stores will and do carry anything for which there is a demand. Nothing in the threadbare, antiquated notions of the past can reach a small town after they have gone out of style in the cities.

in touring through seven states, the lady of the eye gave close attention to the clothing and the ladies' furnishings displayed in the shop windows of the small towns. Invariably, they pronounced these articles reasonable, up to date, and the the stubborn German spirit of perseverance. A moment later he broke out into a tirade against the traitors, whom he attributed to the traitorism. Beyond doubt or question they are patriotic. They are fighting on with admirable courage and they will not be tolerated. As a Hollander I can say that my people could not have stood the privations that they have had to undergo. While in Berlin I had many conversations with their neutral national, and in every one of them I heard the testimony of men that no other nation would have held out so long.

When the German Empire that ruled Poland, save to give up their capital, was destroyed, the Polish people have been made to believe that this war was started by them. The Polish people are fighting a defensive war, they think about Belgium or Serbia. They are fighting a defensive war to conduct a defensive war. It is not a new idea in the military vocabulary of the average German. From his childhood he has been trained in this first principle of national policy. This is the German cardinal principle: "We are fighting a defensive war." I thought that I had had some advanced experience I learned that in Poland, a schoolboy was about to or their own government, they are always the victims of the actions of others. I have never been fond of this. From the rest of the allies, Germany is suffering from food shortage, but the shortage of fat will be a long time before it is a real defeat.

I have been repeatedly asked if I could tell the world that Germany has not enough food to continue another six months or so. All I can say is that they may be right, but at large are suffering terrible agonies because of the shortage of food.

Germany has plenty of food and is holding it back from the people for the use of the army.

I know. What I know is what I saw and myself personally suffered through my fourteen months of residence in Germany.

I am an able bodied man of 27 years. I reached Germany with approximately $100 in my pocket. During my first fourteen months of residence in Germany I worked under "full time" conditions for 12 months and received 40 per cent more wages than my trade received; per week during the "peace" war days. I had no money left depending upon my weekly income. I spent it all in food. I seldom had a glass of beer and am a moderate smoker. I often bought foodstuffs which were not foodstuffs. Candy, high priced sweets, and even ...safety for my life procured without care of one thing but the price. These come very high. I saw a duck sold at 85 marks; I once more repeat; I do not know whether the German government can lay its hand on stored-up food reserves. I know this much, that without food it is during my whole residence in Germany I lost twenty-two pounds; and I lost it gradually. I left Germany because I was starving.

Shortly after reaching Berlin I had many applicants for my good offices by middle class and well to do parents to procure board for their children in Holland with good families. I communicated with over fifty Holland families and secured board in Holland for nearly 120 German children and seventy-five women. Thousands of German women and children are being sent out to Sweden, Denmark, Holland and Switzerland. The United States State Department estimates on the authority of one of our well informed Vorwärts editors that during the last nine months more than 100,000 German children have been thus sent out of the country in order to save them from starvation. Within the next three months another 100,000 surely be doubled. The neutral countries bordering Germany are already overflowing with these children. Their own people as a result of unemployment caution should be taken to keep the well and strong.

This is admittedly some considerable achievement for the "ice-cream truck" of the horse world. The fact that the horse can work on the farm only when the farmer cannot do the work in terms of horses and begins to get impatient with the machines, in the opinion of W. H. Sanders, instructor of farm motors in the University of California, is a sign that the farmer demands it. The designing engineer will construct engines to do just what which the horse does to day.

"Just as horse power in the past has supplanted the man with the hoe," Sanders says, "the farmer will plant the horse," says Mr. Sanders.

the United States has been trying to find out how to make military life more pleasant for the men who are fighting. Today few men realize that the tractor is slowly taking the place of the horse in the army. It is replacing the horse in the same reason that the horse is being replaced in the home. The advent of the tractor, believe Mr. Sanders, means changes in the way of life of the farmer. The working of horses has meant changes in the way of life of the farmer. The work was done by slaves. Next spring, when the tractor companies will place up their new tractors, they will be ready for the cultivation of new crops. This is an indication of the

Australian Women Are Not Going To Take Any Chances

Premier Hughes has introduced a bill in the House of Representatives to enable Australia making provision for her women to marry by proxy in the event of war, as the British soldiers at the front by proxy.

It was argued that prolonged absence of the men would result in the

"And you are indebted to me, because I've swindled her."

If, with the spirit and with the wealth that has staggered the world, something yet remains, if an explanation of Britain's tremendous output of war munitions is to be given, twenty-five years ago the machinery of England stamped out the courage of many nations and made the canons for forty others. England was the ordinance maker of the world. Then Germany loomed as her rival, and by means of government expenditure on armaments and labor and English fire, troops and fact that this is not merely a struggle between the finance, the metal and the soldiers of two rival groups. It is also a struggle for economic existence in order that the fighting-forces may be increased. Germany was the first of the belligerents to realize that war power might be increased

R. W. STONEY, Editor

In an endeavor to convince the farmers across the Red Deer river of its sincerity in the bridge proposition across the river, The Brooks Bulletin last week used language quite foreign to its editor, and goes quite the length to point out its ignorance of any opposition to the delegation going to Edmonton with their requests.

We haven't the slightest doubt but that The Bulletin cannot smell a rat in that news article emanating from Edmonton. The Bulletin says it "prefers to know what it is talking about before it comments on anything." Of that, too, we haven't the slightest doubt, as so far we have neither seen nor heard of comment of any kind on the part of The Bulletin neither before nor after it knew what it was to talk about—except perhaps on the subject of the war—which is most enlightening. If somebody says something The Bulletin is quite willing to share in the originality with that party, but as far as "starting" anything it is quite a back number.

Coming back to the bridge question, however, it is obvious even to the most casual reader by the public announcement of that Edmonton news article without comment, The Bulletin tacitly—although perhaps unknown to its editor—lent itself to befool the farmers across the river in an attempt to forestall the delegation from going to Edmonton. But it did not work.

The Brooks Bulletin quotes ancient history in its last issue to defend the town of Brooks in its action in binding itself to paying out an extravagant sum for luxurious entertainment. It argues that because Bassano paid big sums for a baseball team years ago, and $1,000 to Dr. Elliott for "locating" a gas well, etc., etc., that Brooks is quite entitled to the same privilege. Certainly, certainly, get as foolish as you like.

But The Mail has ever advocated economy, and it any fault be attached to these civic expenditures, Editor Nesbitt who at one time conducted a sheet here, is as much to blame as the present residents. These things, however, done in boom times, and when everybody was more or less boom crazy, have left this lesson, which has been well learned, and economy, true economy, has set in. Thus The Mail considers the town in a position to preach economy to its foolish neighbors.

It might be as well to point out in connection with the $1,000 paid to "our old friend Dr. Elliott," (as Nesbitt styles him) that the payment was highly recommended by a then businessman of this town who was at that time chairman of the Finance Committee, and who is now a member of the Brooks council. So that if the expenditure of that $1,000 can truly be termed extravagance in these days, then Brooks today is really under a handicap.

Now that the people of Empress have proven to the Edmonton government that they are in earnest in demanding a bridge across the Red Deer, and that they would even go so far as to build the bridge themselves, the Provincial government steps in and takes over the whole project. Which all goes to show that the government has the money to build bridges if the people insist on having them.

Let me see, how was it that fire started which burned down the Brooks town hall and its records?

Is a war tax on theatre tickets a tax for war purposes or simply a bleeding process so that we can't give so much to patriotic purposes?

A Calgary paper suggests that a Provincial election will take place about July 27th. These bridge rumors would surely indicate something of this nature, or perhaps the bridges promised are just things for the water to run under.

Now that the Mounties have all been gathered in, Chief Clynx is monarch of all he surveys. He should get an increase in salary.

BUY AN IRRIGATED FARM

From the Canadian Pacific Railway

REQUIRE

Irrigation makes the farmer independent of rainfall, and insures good crops, and a EVERY YEAR.

Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the King of all feeds, which insures good returns in dairying and mixed farming.

Irrigation means intensive farming and close settlement, with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation Block is no longer an experiment. The year that it has been tried has been absolutely decisive and leaves no room for doubt as to its widespread utility generally applied.

This is the most liberal offer of irrigation yet made.

For full particulars, apply to

Allan Cameron, General Supt. of Lands
Canadian Pacific Railway, Department of Natural Resources
